

AWMS Conference

Sponsors and Exhibitors Brochure

Darwin, Northern Territory, December 3-5, 2019

You are invited...

In response to a growing need for a body committed to wildlife management in Australia and New Zealand, the Australasian Wildlife Management Society (AWMS) was established in May, 1988. The Society has about 200 members from all regions of Australia, New Zealand and from other countries.

Who will attend?

The Conference usually attracts 100 – 200 delegates from Australia, New Zealand and beyond. Delegates will include scientists, wildlife managers, wildlife users, educators, policy developers and extension/interpretation officers. Attendees come from all sectors of wildlife management and a wide range of institutions and private organisations. The contribution that sponsors make to the success of the Conference is highly valued by AWMS. The full entitlements for each of the sponsorship packages are noted below.

Some of the reasons why you should participate include:

- the opportunity to profile your organisation and enhance your brand with a targeted and cost effective marketing solution
- build face-to-face business relationships and secure quality leads brand and image recognition - your organisation's logo will be displayed on conference screens as a sponsor at the event
- business and professional development opportunities through networking with delegates.

Organisers are willing to consider tailoring packages to suit your organisation's requirements or design packages for items not listed in this brochure e.g. speaker sponsorships, internet access for delegates and mobile program apps for instance. Inkind sponsorships are also welcome (for example, coffee mugs, bottled water, pens and notepads).

Trade displays will be located in an adjoining room to the Conference. All morning and afternoon teas and lunches will be served in the exhibition area.

Please email the Conference Liaison Officer to discuss your sponsorship opportunities further: conference@awms.org.au
